Appreciate it, Mike – this will suffice for now.

I completely agree that it would take at least two years from today to close a transaction to sell a substantial portion of JEA's assets. The combination of:

- 1 - an evaluation and decision-making process,
- 2 - a bidding process,
- 3 - a post bid negotiation process
- 4 - an approvals process
- 5 - establishing a new regulatory framework

Among other things, would appear to take at least two years. I believe other examples of attempted or executed municipal utility asset sales would strongly support a 2+ year timeframe as being perhaps even optimistic. We are available to discuss this further if you would like.

Following up on our phone conversation this past Friday, could you please confirm your opinion that the process to privatize JEA would take at least two (2) years to complete? Let me know if you have any questions or comments.

Florida has a very broad Public Records Law. Virtually all written communications to or from State and Local Officials and employees are public records available to the public and media upon request. Any email sent to or from JEA's system may be considered a public record and subject to disclosure under Florida's Public Records Laws. Any information deemed confidential and exempt from Florida's Public Records Laws should be clearly marked. Under Florida law, e-mail addresses are public records. If you do not want your e-mail address released in response to a public-records request, do not send electronic mail to this entity. Instead, contact JEA by phone or in writing.
