After you and I had the discussion last week, the mayor agreed to the concept and asked me to explore folks for a possible city ITN team.

We identified 3 people whose mix of experience and expertise is relevant. Also, who we could work with to balance their schedules for the next approximately 8 to 12 weeks.

Stephanie Burch, Deputy CAO - an attorney, administrator and former department head.

Randal Barnes, City Treasurer - a finance expert, deep understanding of city budget, and previous to COJ 16 years experience with TVA

Robin Smith, City Engineer - professional engineer, experience in infrastructure and utilities.

Each of them met individually with OGC and has an initial clearance of conflicts. So they are available today and beyond to serve.

As a follow-up to our discussion last week, have you identified some City of Jacksonville employees that could participate on the negotiating team for the JEA ITN? If so, what are next steps?
